Location: Egypt

Languages: Arabic (native), English (fluent)

Date of birth: 1-10-1973

Manal Khalil is a globally published author with active readership across platforms including Smashwords, Project Gutenberg, and the Internet Archive. Her works have sold commercially, with 23 copies purchased in July alone on Smashwords. She blends philosophical critique, autobiographical depth, and bold secular thought, earning recognition for her fearless storytelling and Enlightenment values.

A member of the Egyptian Writers Union for 13 years, she graduated from the Faculty of Arts, Zagazig University, Egypt, class of 1999, majoring in Media, in addition to a postgraduate diploma in 2010 with a good grade. She worked as a journalist for 3 years in several Egyptian magazines such as: Umm Al-Dunya, Al-Musawwar, and Al-Hayat Al-Masriya newspaper.

Profile Egyptian writer, Enlightenment advocate, and creative orchestrator. My work blends autobiography, philosophical critique, and literary rebellion. I publish globally and specialize in cinematic storytelling, intellectual analysis, and bold secular themes.

My works are officially listed within the global digital authors' community via Project Gutenberg's cloud publishing platform—an initiative of the World Library Foundation. I also publish on Wattpad and Dreame, engaging with readers in both Arabic and English.

As Egypt reclaims its place on the global cultural map—hosting royal artistic events like The Grand Ball 2025 at Abdeen Palace and unveiling the Grand Egyptian Museum—I believe this is the perfect moment to introduce a bold Egyptian feminist voice to the world.
